Dear Max,

We are extremely grateful for your donation of Incontinence Pads to our Gifts In Kind programme that were added to the load for Moldova. Your generosity will make a vital difference to the lives of many individuals and families whose income is simply not enough to cover their most basic needs.

Your kind donation will enable World Jewish Relief, through our Gifts in Kind programme, to ease the difficult choices made every day by families and individuals who have to decide whether to buy food, medication or heat their homes. Additional items, such as new clothing, are luxuries they simply cannot afford. Donations such as yours make it possible for us to help by providing practical and direct support to those living in the grip of poverty.

The Kaminer family in Kishinev, Moldova is typical of the families we help. The father earns money doing odd-jobs whenever possible and the mother cannot find permanent work. There are three children. Tanya, the youngest child, is only 5 years old but she already understands how hard her family struggles. She was so delighted to receive a parcel of new clothes as she realised that they would not only keep her warm, but it meant that her mother would have money to buy food for the family that month.

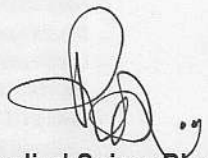

A package of goods from WJR may be the first time many families, like the Kaminers, have ever received something new. Without this lifeline they are destined to constantly struggle with little chance of relief. Last year, with the help of donors like yourself, we shipped 30 consignments to eight countries benefiting many thousands of people. For further information on Gifts in Kind and our other programmes worldwide, please do not hesitate to get in touch by calling 020 8736 1250, or visit our website (wjr.org.uk).

Thank you once again for your kind donation which will make such an immeasurable improvement to the lives of those we support.

Yours sincerely
